NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF CHILD CARE PROFESSIONALS RELEASES 2009 NAC ACCREDITATION STANDARDS REVISION

AUSTIN, Texas – October 9, 2009 – The National Accreditation Commission for Early Care and Education Programs (NAC) as offered by the National Association of Child Care Professionals (NACCP) is pleased to announce the release of newly revised standards of the NAC Accreditation process.

The NAC Accreditation process is a valid and appropriate choice for early childhood programs across the country. The purpose of NAC is to identify and acknowledge early care and education programs demonstrating practices that have been identified as leading to best outcomes for children. These standards reflect high quality care as gleaned from years of research and the shared wisdom of early childhood professionals. The release of these revisions provide current evidence-based practices, clearly defined expectations and instructions as well as a realistic and practical approach to achieving accreditation for centers seeking the highest standards in quality accreditation.

NACCP is the nation's leader among associations serving child care owners, directors and administrators. NACCP is committed to strengthen the skills of professionals who are dedicated to early care and education. For more information about NACCP, please visit www.naccp.org.
